

MULTILINGUALISM AND LANGUAGE VARIETIES IN EUROPE

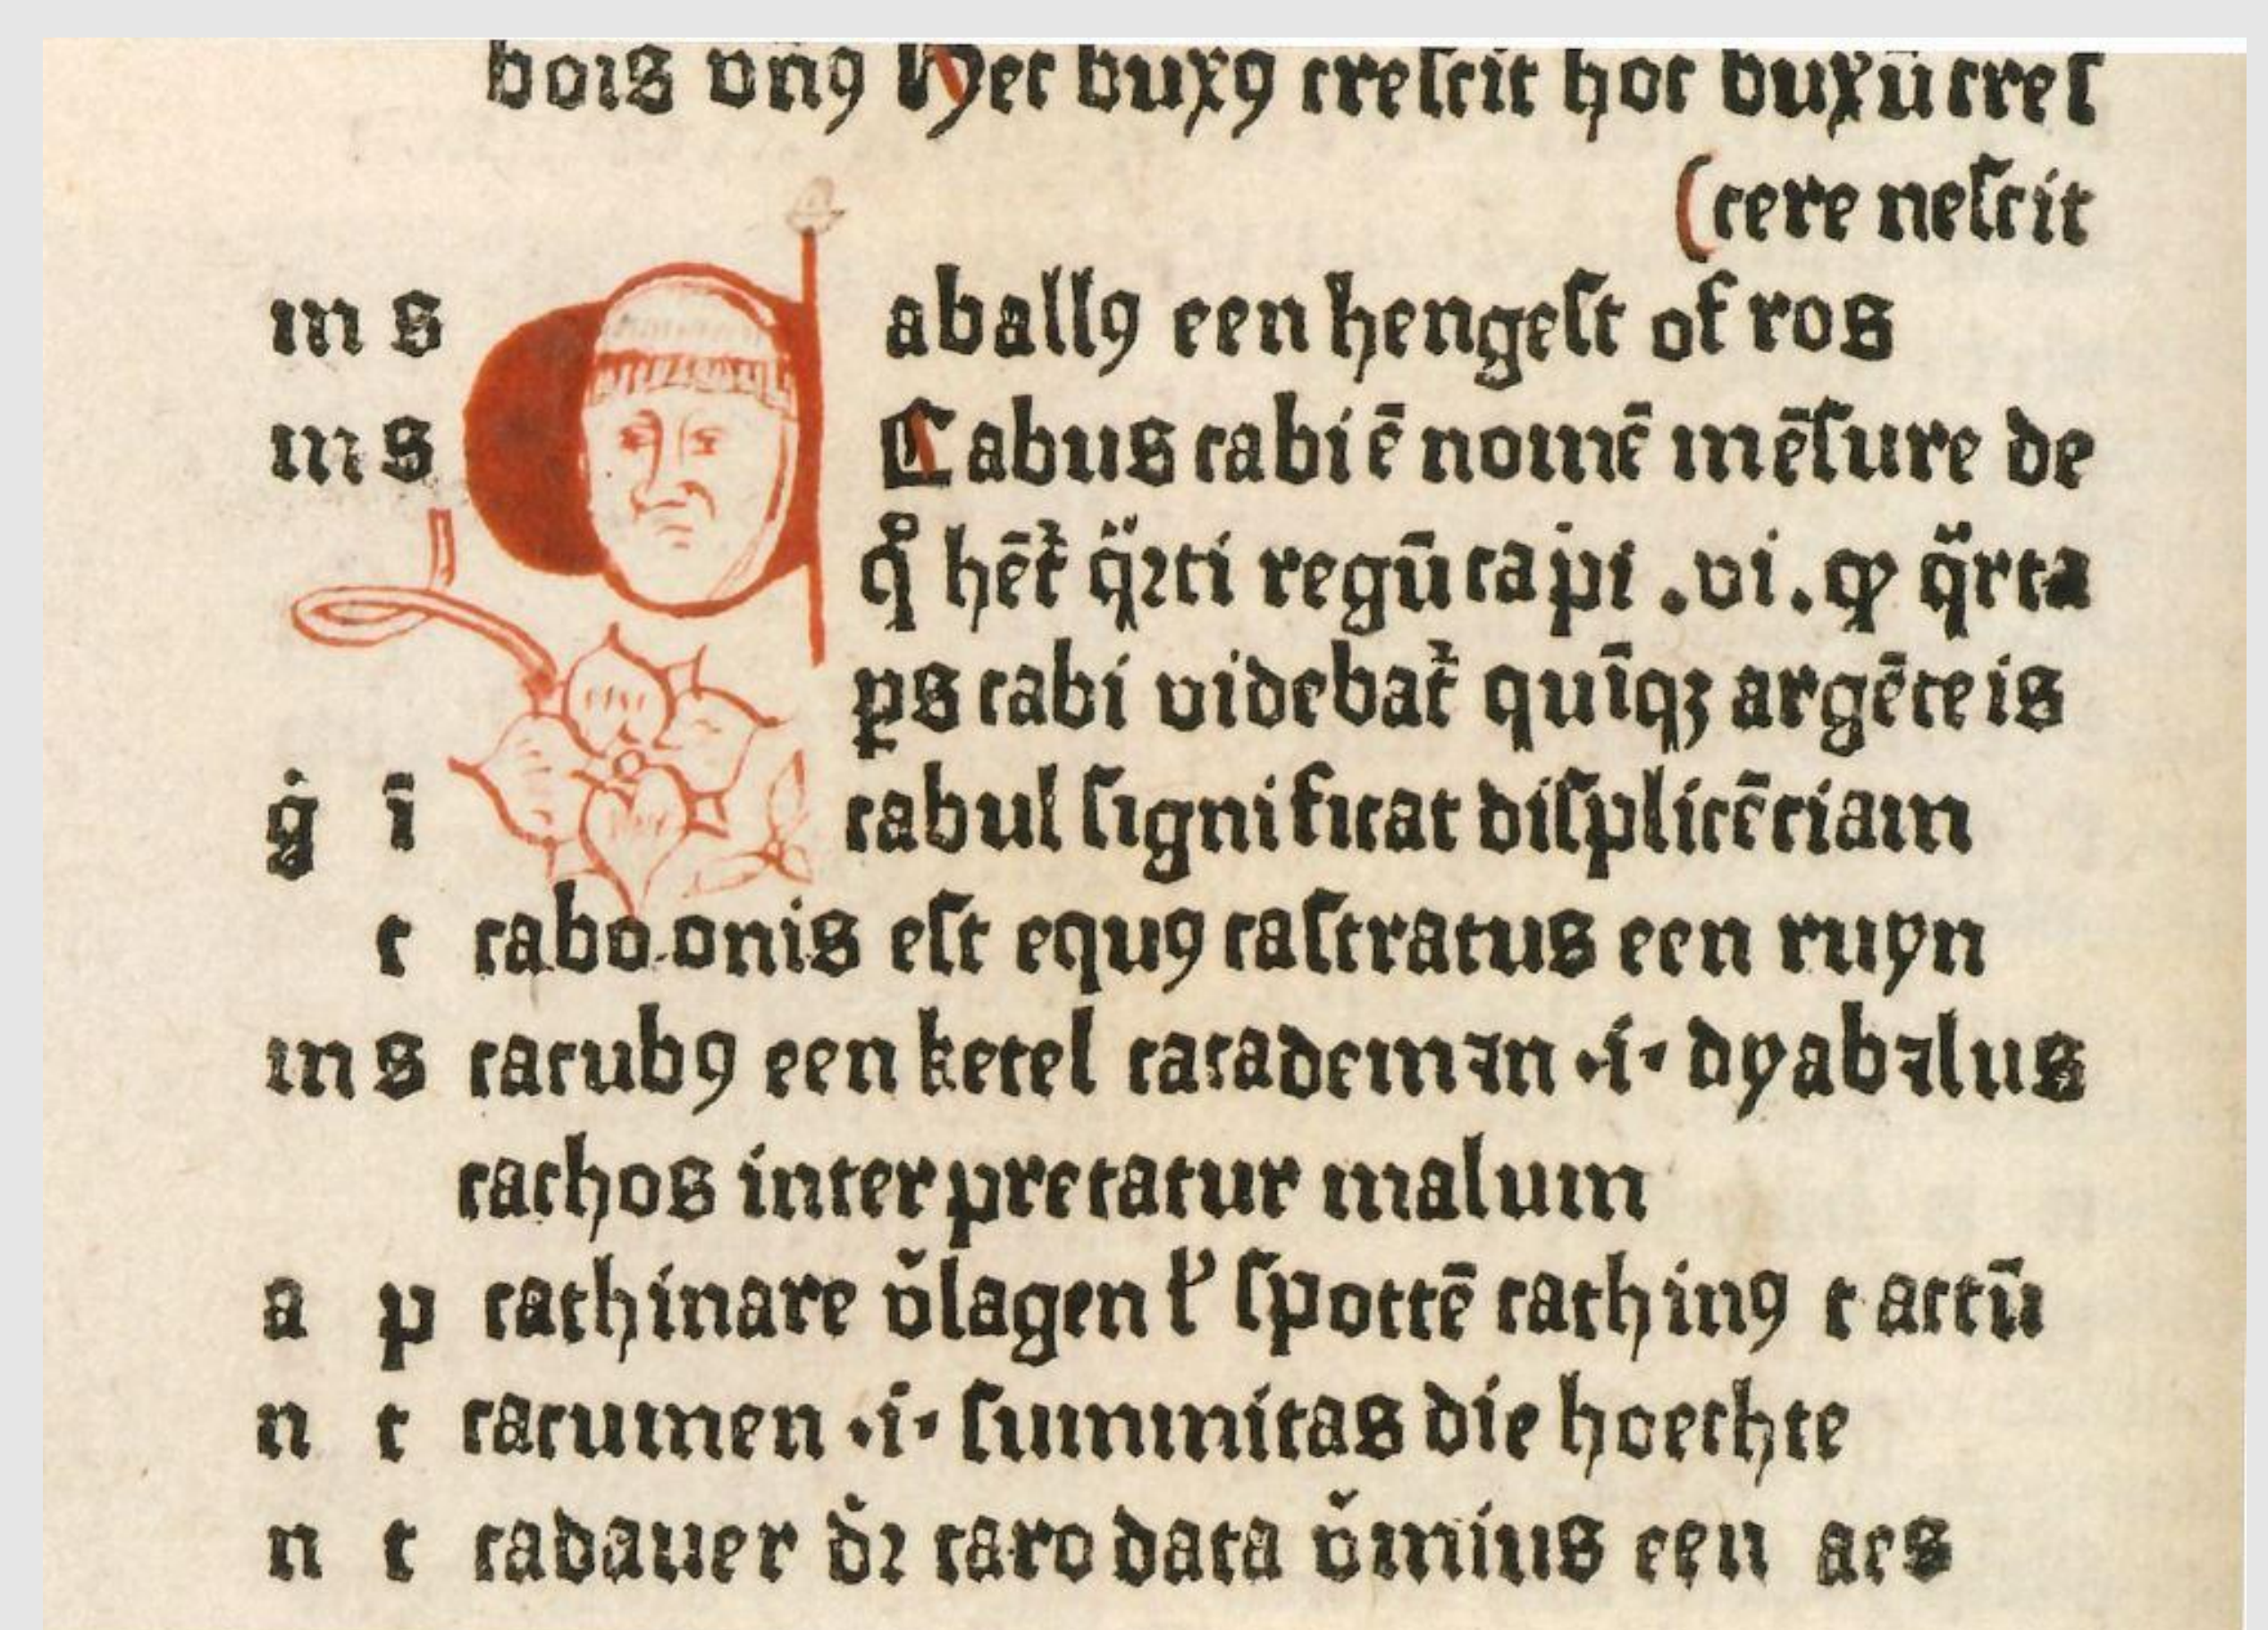

AUTUMN SCHOOL IN MEDIEVAL LANGUAGES AND CULTURE 2019

GHEENT, 22 – 25 OCTOBER 2019

This Autumn School is organized for PhD- and MA-students in Medieval Studies (especially history, literature, linguistics...) who did not have a training in historical sociolinguistics and discourse analysis during their regular study programme, but nevertheless need some basic knowledge and methodology in this field for their current research.

With a truly multi-disciplinary focus, specialists in historical linguistics and literature collaborate with medievalists to give an overview of the concepts, methodologies and debates of historical linguistics and discourse analysis. Lectures include an accurate analysis of the relationship between Latin and the vernacular languages and attention is paid to formal approaches to change and contact linguistics. Multilingualism is studied in border areas and in trading cities, while code-switching is analyzed in the Burgundian Low Countries. The seminar ends with a lecture and a workshop on discourse analysis.

The Autumn School consists of four days during which participants will be able to combine lectures with interactive workshops. All sessions will be taught in English by leading experts in the field of historical sociolinguistics and discourse analysis.

- Application deadline is 20 Sept. 2019
- Maximum of 20 participants
- First-come, first-served!
- Registration fee of EUR 150, waived for students from Ghent University & The Dutch Research School for Medieval Studies
- Venue: Campus Book Tower, Blandijn Building, Blandijnberg 2, 9000 Ghent

Check our website for full programme & folder:
<https://www.ugent.be/pirenne/en>

Information and registration:

Martine De Reu
Dean's office
Blandijnberg 2
9000 Ghent, Belgium

@ Martine.DeReu@UGent.be @MedievalUGent
+32 9 264 36 92